Accrual of Interest on Noncash Deposits

- ❖ Interest begins to accrue the next business day following the day of your opening deposit.

Compounding, Crediting and Balance Computation

- ❖ The Annual Percentage Yield (APY) disclosed on the Interest Checking Combo account assumes that interest earned in Interest Checking Combo compounds. However, by choosing to have Interest Savings linked to your Interest Checking Combo account, you understand that the interest earned in your Interest Checking Combo account is automatically transferred into your Interest Savings account at the end of the statement cycle and therefore does not remain in your Interest Checking Combo account and does not compound. Additionally, you understand that the interest amount earned in the Interest Savings account may be less than the interest amount earned in the Interest Checking Combo account.
- ❖ There is no minimum balance required to earn interest.
- ❖ If you close your account before interest is credited, you will not receive the accrued interest.
- ❖ We use the daily balance method to calculate the interest on your account. This method applies a daily periodic rate to the principal in the account each day. The daily periodic rate may vary.
- ❖ The period we use is days in statement cycle.
